American Pacific Mortgage is a mortgage lender helping qualified customers all over the United States purchase homes since 1996. American Pacific Mortgage is licensed to lend in 31 states.

The company came to BirdEye after realizing the growing importance of online reviews. American Pacific Mortgage realized that BirdEye could simplify the process of getting reviews by collecting them automatically for its ~1,000 loan officers. The company selected BirdEye because of its ease of use for both collecting and monitoring client reviews.

In 2018, American Pacific Mortgage collected more than 11,000 reviews with an average star rating of 4.96. With this increase in reviews, the company has seen an increase in their online presence.

"We love BirdEye for its customizability and ease of use. It's easier than ever for us to get new customer reviews and monitor them in the dashboard. We couldn't recommend BirdEye enough."

"Tyler is great! We have bought 2 homes with his help! He made sure we understood everything we were doing and was very patient with us. He never rushed through any type of paperwork he took his time explaining. Tyler had our best interest in mind with each home. I can't say enough good things about him. He kept in contact with both my husband and i, he always made sure we were all on the same page. He made sure.." says cortneyelam111 on Zillow
